Appeal to Top U.S. Court Urged on Commuter Plan

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

Appeal by this county to the United States Supreme Court against the recent Federal District Court of Appeals decision permitting Pacific Greyhound Lines to set up a separate company for Bay Area commuter service is urged by the Contra Costa County Commuters Association.

This was stated yesterday by Richard F. Tiedeman, Commuters Association president, who reiterated his organization's warning that establishment by Greyhound of the Golden Gate Transit Lines would mean "a sizeable increase in commute fares."

Tiedman pointed out that any appeal to the United State Supreme Court "must be filed within 30 days after entry of judgment."

THE COMMUTER president reported that, with his approval, John E. McKirahan, who is an active member and a past president, wrote last Friday to Supervisors Mel Nielsen and Ray Taylor, expressing the association view.

McKirahan called attention to the "adverse decision" of the United States District Court of Appeals April 12 upholding the Interstate Commerce Commission order authorizing Greyhound to set up the separate commute line.

The Court of Appeals decision meant dismissal of the injunction suit which had been filed by Contra Costa and Marin Counties, the Contra Costa County Commuters Association and the Marin County Federation of Commuter Clubs.

THIS INJUNCTION suit sought annulment of the Intertsate Commerce Commission ruling which would allow Greyhound to establish the Golden Gate Transit Lines.

McKirahan's letters followed a request by Attorney Spurgeon Avakian to District Attorney Francis Collins of Contra Costa County and District Attorney William O. Weissich of Marin County, asking whether the two counties want to carry the fight to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In the action to date on behalf of the two commuter associations and the two counties, Avakian, an Oakland attorney, has been paid by the counties.

THE THREE JUDGES of the District Court of Appeals—Federal District Judges Oliver Carter and George Harris and Circuit Judge William Healy—agreed in upholding the ICC authorization to Pacific Greyhound Lines to form the separate company.

However, Judge Harris disagreed with the other two judges on their refusal to allow Avakian to file an amended complaint charging that the ICC had insufficient evidence before making its ruling.

He contended that the plaintiffs should have been allowed to file an amended complaint.

McKIRAHAN, in his letters to Nielsen and Taylor, said that if the Golden Gate Transit Lines becomes a reality, it is "a certainty that we will shortly end up with an operation at such exorbitant prices, it will quickly go out of business and leave us stranded on already congested highways."

He stated that of $5000 originally allocated by Contra Costa County for the purpose of pressing the court fight against the Greyhound move, "only $1000 has been charged up to Avakian" for fees and costs to date. He added that the total expenditures to date for both Contra Costa and Marin Counties in his matter have been $1,730.93.

McKirahan declared that, according to Tiedeman, the cost of an appeal to the nation's highest tribunal would "undoubtedly come to less than the original amount" expended.

That point was reemphasized by Tiedeman yesterday.

"THE CONTRA COSTA County Commuters Association has been fighting against the Greyhound plan for a separate commute line for the past few years," he said.

"We definitely believe that the issue should be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court by our county, particularly since the cost factor is so feasible.

"Our county owes it to the commuters to make such an appeal."

This view was in contrast to Collins' recent comment that an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court would be expensive—"The cost would be tremendous," he said.

Tiedeman and McKirahan said they were "heartened" by Judge Harris' views.

JUDGE HARRIS said last week that when Greyhound exclusively took over the commuter routes in 1939—when the Northwest Pacific Railroad and ferry service came to a halt—it assured the California Public Utilities Commission "that if they were allowed to assume this exclusive transportation service they would do so on a minimum financial recovery basis."

Judge Harris added: "The U.S. Supreme Court has held that a public utility may not be relieved of an unprofitable bargain even though the bargain produces less than a fair rate of return on the investment."

In February, 1954, Pacific Greyhound Lines asked the ICC for permission to form the Golden Gate Transit Lines, for Bay Area commute purposes.

GREYHOUND had complained that its commuter runs—as distinct from its long-haul service—were unprofitable, at the commuter rates it was allowed to charge.

The ICC granted the permission in July, 1955.

The dispute was taken to federal court by Contra Costa and Marin Counties last October, with the two commuter organizations joining in the action.

Grand Jury Investigates Scandal

Investigation Planned By DA Francis Collins

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors instructed District Attorney Francis Collins to keep a close eye on the alleged scandals in the County Records office.

The action took place at the Tuesday meeting of the Supervisors following a Monday night grand jury session in which reports of "kick-backs" and alleged fund shortages were discussed.

COLLINS reported Monday night to the grand jury on reports of irregularities in the recorder's office.

The district attorney's investigation was started after being informed that James Todesco paid $12 a month to Jack B. Haule, an intermediate clerk, to hold his job.

County Auditor Howard McNamer reported a possible fund shortage in the recorder's office to county administrator Desmond Teeter.

McNAMER SAID he spoke with Haule concerning a $4-$6 shortage in his accounts covering issuance of duplicate birth and death certificates. Haule resigned when confronted with the shortage.

Haule, who has been an intermediate clerk for 10 years, stated he resigned for personal reasons. He admits he received the payments from Todesco. Todesco refuses to comment.

Cunningham states that the "deal" was worked out between the two men after both had sought the chief clerk position some years ago.

UNOFFICIAL SOURCES contend that the grand jury has ordered its audit committee to make a study of the records office including the personnel in the office.

Reportedly the only ones questioned thus far by the district attorney's office are Todesco, Cunningham and Haule.

Cunningham disclaimed any knowledege of anyone using county funds for making payment to anyone else.

Glen Whalen, the grand jury auditor, will be in charge of investigating both the fee shortages and the kickback issue.

COLLINS presented the grand jury with a charge that Todesco and Haule should be brought to court in violation of section 1195 of the Federal Penal Code. A high county official made this statement.

The code stipulates that any person who uses or takes any government monies is subject to a felony charge.

Todesco reportedly has retained the services of a lawyer. Further reports indicate that he has obtained the services of Robert Condon but Condon's office was unable to confirm the report.

Open House In Schools Next Week

Public Schools Week in Orinda will be observed next week—April 29 through May 3.

The week will be celebrated in traditional fashion with Open Houses at each of the five schools in the district.

On Monday two of the schools will display work done by the children during the year, Del Rey and Sleepy Hollow. Open house will b from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

On Tuesday Orinda School will hold its open house from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Glorietta School's night, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., is next Wednesday.

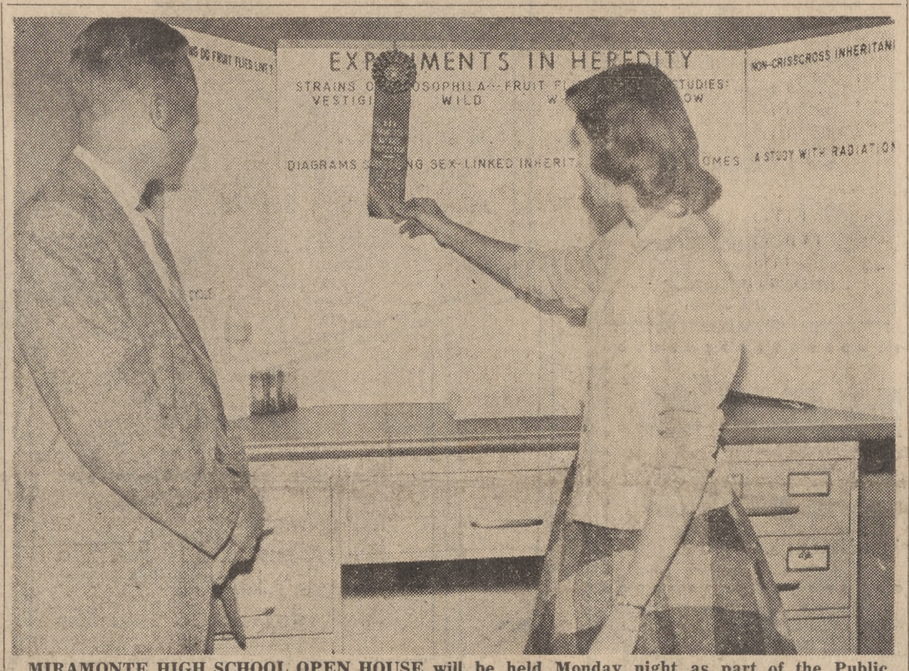

Pine Grove will display its children's wares from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on Thursday.

School district officials invite all parents to attend their children's school during this Public School week.

"Public Schools Week" offers parents, teachers and administrators the opportunity to become better acquainted with one another, and for the general public to get a better idea of the work at our schools," said Joseph L. Sheaff, Orinda superintendent of schools.

A BRIEF business meeting will be held by the Miramonte Parents Club before the program, with Mrs. Jack Walling, president, presiding.

Electioin of officers for the following year will be held, and a revision of the by-laws voted upon.

MIRAMONTE HIGH SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE will be held Monday night as part of the Public Schools Week program. Part of the display will be the "Experiments in Heredity" scientific display which won sophomore Patricia Margaret Quinn second place honors at the recent San Francisco Bay Area Science Fair. Orinda School CD Drill Set

"A full-scale evacuation drill" will be held at Orinda School at 1:30 p.m. next Friday, Principal William Gaskell announced yesterday.

Some 450 children from the kindergarten through sixth grade classes at the school will participate in the civil defense exercise, he said.

Also to take part are about 150 parents, who will have their cars at six "staging areas" near the school.

Traffic will be stopped on Orinda Highway in the vicinity of the school, Gaskell stated. Teachers will lead groups of students to points where the parents will "take over."

County civil defense leaders and Orinda School District officials will witness the evacuation drill, according to the principal. The entire exercise will probably take about a half-hour, Gaskell estimated.

Orinda Cyclist Struck by Auto

A Miramonte High School freshman suffered fractures of the right leg and nose and multiple contusions when he was struck by an automobile Monday while riding his bicycle.

The youth, Tom Heiser, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heiser of 127 Glorietta Boulevard in Orinda.

He is reported in good condition at Kaiser Foundation Hospital, Oakland.

According to Highway Patrol reports, the 14-year-old boy was riding his bicycle on the left shoulder of Orchard Road in Orinda when the automobile came around a blind curve in the road and struck him.

The driver of the car was Mrs. John C. Ramsey of 21 Owl Hill Road in Orinda.

Survey Reported To Fire Board

Orinda Fire Board of Commissioners heard a report on a survey of county fire districts at their meeting Monday night.

The report was delivered by Harold R. Rosen, representative of Louis J. Kroeger and Associates, the firm which is conducting the survey.

The survey was instituted at the request of the county Board of Supervisors in an attempt to stabilize the workings of the individual fire districts in the county.

Rosen's report suggested a reviison of salary structures for the district, upwards in some places, down in others, and a plan to give the smaller districts in the county two years to work their operation up to the minimum standard set for the county.

Currently, some of the districts are operating sub-standard because of low assessed valuation in their district.

Plans Stepped Up For Town Meet

Church to Hold Fund Campaign For New Place

Preparations for a fund-raising campaign to enable the Orinda Community Church (Congregational) to expand to a new building were undertaken April 17 night at a special meeting of the congregation. Kirk Miles acted as moderator for the session in Fellowship Hall of the church.

According to the Rev. Chauncey Blossom, the congregation approved the plan of securing the services of H. P. Demand and Company of Evanston, Ill., a national church fund-raising corporation, to lead the congregation in a capital funds program beginnig next October 18 and continuing to the end of November.

Mr. Blossom said that the "ultimate needs" of the church will be "in excess of $200,000," but that the immediate amount for the drive will be determined in the fall.

DECISION to retain the H. P. Demand firm followed reports by Everett Howe, building committee chairman, and Dell Kay of the fund-raising committee.

Howe discussed problems of selection of an architect and other matters relating to new-building plans.

Mr. Blossom said later that details as to site location will be announced "within a few months."

"THE CHURCH is in need of an enlarged area for development of its plan," the minister explained. "The Church School has grown to approximately 1000 children and teachers, and the church membership is approaching 600."

In another action, the congregation voted to call Jack Biersdorf, current student youth worker at the church, to be the assistant minister, starting August 15. Biersdorf will graduate this spring from the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley.

The church appointed John Laird as deacon emeritus, in recognition of his many years of outstanding service in the church.

The Orinda Community Church was established in 1939 and has been at its present site at Irwin Way near Orinda Highway since about 1946.

Comerfords Enjoying Trip to Disneyland

The A. J. Comerford family of 34 Van Tassel Lane in Orinda report "having a terrific time" at the Disneyland Hotel and park.

Rumors Persist About Teenage Center Plans

Unverified rumors persisted this week that an effort may be made to establish a teenage center at the present quarters of the Orinda Community Church.

The rumors, which have been prevalent for some time, gained credence as the result of two recent developments:

1. Decision by the Orinda Community Church congregation last week to conduct a fund-raising campaign in the fall to enable the church to expand to a new building.

2. Mention at the April 15 meeting of the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee that an important report is expected to be made at the May 20 Civic Affairs meeting regarding progress of the teenage problems committee of the Civic Affairs group.

THE TEENAGE problems committee, established in January by Dr. Ralph C. Hall, Civic Affairs chairman, is attempting to improve facilities and programs for Orinda teenagers.

It is divided into two units — a teenage group, headed by Marilyn Engelhard, chairman, and Steve De Maria, co-chairmen; and an adult group, of which Stanley Allen is chairman.

Mrs. Doris Fernsten, a member of the adult unit, stated at the April 15 Civic Affairs meeting that an important announcement is expected to be ready for the May 20 meeting.

FOLLOWING the announcement that the Orinda Community Church is seeking larger quarters, observers stated that the present church structure at Irwin Way near Orinda Highway would be "ideal" for a youth center.

They pointed out that Fellowship Hall in the church has a seating capacity of about 100; that the hall can be used for dances, since the chairs are movable; that it has excellent kitchen facilities, and that it has a patio with built-in barbecue facilities.

In the deliberations of the youth and adult sections of the Civic Affairs teenage committee, a youth center has been listed as one of the major needs in Orinda.

ACQUISITION of the present church structure for a youth center would necessitate purchase of the church quarters, it is explained by interested persons.

In that connection, it is stated by some that if a project of that nature were to be seriously considered and undertaken, it would have to involve other community activities and groups.

These other activities and groups would not conflict, in such details as scheduled gatherings and programs, with the youth center, it is stressed.

FACILITIES at the present church are used by the Orinda Nursery School, the Orinda Art Center and the Dramateurs.

In addition, the Orinda Branch Library is housed in the basement of the church.

The Orinda Community Church has been at its present site since about 1946.

Petitions Will Follow Session On Incorporation

Preparations for the May 6 Town Meeting on incorporation were speeded this week by the Orinda Association.

The May 6 gathering at the Orinda School auditorium will start at 8 p.m.

It is being called by the association board in an effort to acquaint the community with various technical problems related to possible incorporation of Orinda as a city, in an attempt to present pro and con arguments.

AT MONDAY NIGHT'S association board meeting at Orinda School, President Gene Estes announced he has been selected to be moderator of the Town Meeting.

"This board is not in favor of or opposed to incorporation," he said. "I'll try to be as impartial as I can."

General chairman of the committee on incorporation is Ernest I. Spiegl, veteran civic leader in Orinda and a director of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

AMONG THOSE serving under him are Kirk Miles, community contacts chairman, who is arranging details of the May 6 meeting; Herb Waterman, petitions committee chairman, and Fred Rust, research committee chairman.

Petition circulators will meet 8 at p.m. next Tuesday in the Glorietta School all-purpose room, Waterman announced this week.

"This will be a briefing and educational session," Waterman explained.

"FACTS WILL be given for and against incorporation, so that the circulators will be prepared to answer questions.

"Speakers at this briefing session will be Fred Rust and Richard Bartle of the research committee."

Waterman said that the petition drive will be conducted intensively for two successive weekends—May 11-12 and May 18-19.

"EMPHASIS will be on areas not covered in the petition drive last year," Waterman said.

"About 100 men and women will serve as petition circulators, in an effort to obtain enough signatures to ask the County Board of Supervisors to schedule an election on Orinda incorporation.

"Assignments to the circulators will be made next Tuesday night."

Both Waterman and Estes stressed that signing the petitions does not necessarily mean being in favor of incorporation, but that it means asking for the issue to be brought to an official vote.

REQUIRED are the signatures of at least 25 per cent of the property owners in the area proposed for incorporation, who must represent at least 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the land (unimproved) in the area.

"It's estimated that the signatures already obtained represent about 18 per cent of the total land value, unimproved," Waterman said. "That means we need signatures of owners of another 7 per cent of the total land value, unimproved.

"We think that if we get signers from about 600 more homes—meaning about 1200 more property owners—we will have sufficient signatures."

Miles has announced that a speaker at the May 6 Town Meeting will be Professor T. J. Kent, teacher of city planning at the University of California and recently elected Berkeley city councilman.

Spring's Gender Is No Mystery

There is now no longer any doubt that Spring is a woman.

She obviously can't make up her mind . . . and other people are left waiting, wondering, hoping and occasionally muttering epithets sotto voce.

After a week of rain, which followed a week of sun, the Old Girl fluttered and postured between warmth and coolth.

The rains were pretty much over with by last Friday, when the .76 inches of the week's rainfall fell.

This brought the season rainfall figure to 21.72 inches thus far. Whether this will be the end of precipitation or not, of course, remains to be seen.

The forecast is for more weather throughout the week.

His tastes are mild, but he likes 'them' wild!

Post-Easter poem from a suburban husband who prefers to remain anonymous—

"Some husbands long for a smart little hat—on their blue-eyed blonde or brunette. But MY wife, I swear, must cover HER hair, with a hat like an Orinda sunset!

"Now the books I read . . . and the life I lead . . . are sensible, sane and mild. I buy calm hats and I don't wear spats, but I WANT my wife's hat—WILD!"

WHILE ONE SUBURBAN MATRON, who does mosaic tiles, spent Easter vacation collecting pebbles along the Pacific coastline, Those of us who stayed at home collected rocks in our head from the rain!

Like THIS lady, who, deciding to fashion an egg tree for the holiday table, spent several hours "blowing" eggs most carefully. The whites into one bowl, the yellows into another. Nearing a state of apoplexy and suffering from sore cheeks and shortness of breath, she took two-out to make a telephone call. Too late, she turned around to find that her tiny helpmate daughter had emptied one bowl into another. Scrambled eggs, eggscetera!

THE EASTER BUNNY DIDN'T leave him in a basket! but he DID bring a brand new BOY, fifth child, third son to the Robert Boyles at Providence Hospital last Tuesday morning early.

LENTEN STORY . . . Did you hear about that Orinda mother, who, one drier day of our wet week, took her twin sons to Tilden for a try at the trout fishing? Leaving them to try their luck, she drove back to town to do her shopping when she returned several hours later for the two fishing fellows, she was FLOORED to find that between them, they had pulled in some two dozen truot. To the tune of $26, Park trout averaging about a dollar apiece. Mother frantically dashed back to town. This time to cash a check to get her boys AND the fish, literally, OFF-THE-HOOK!

$10,000 Suit Against Boy Neglects to Name Parents

A San Francisco attorney is in for a surprise one of these days.

In his allegation to Superior Court for $10,000 damages in behalf of a 9-year-old San Francisco girl, the attorney filed action against Teddy Pedersen of 1 Meadow Court, Orinda.

Teddy is 10 years old.

IF HE HAPPENS to have $10-000 in his piggy bank, it would be difficult to impound it without the consent of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Pedersen.

And Mr. and Mrs. Pedersen are not named in the suit.

The allegation states that young Pedersen "pushed, shoved and hurled a swing" at little Renee Robert, daughter of Fred K. Robert, a visitor of one of Pedersen's neighbors in Mav of 1956.

Renee allegedly suffered "severe shattering and breaking of a left front tooth" in addition to the traditional nervous shock, traumas and general emotional disturbances.

THE SWING in question belonged to young Pedersen. According to reports, Renee desired use of the swing and was rebuffed.

At the time of the incident last year an insurance company began an investigation of the affair in order to determine the extent of liability by both parties before paying claim to medical damages.

Seemingly the insurance company did not act with sufficient expediency to suit the Robert family. They secured an attorney to file a suit for damages.

If by some fantastic quirk of jurisprudence young Pedersen finds himself saddled with a debt of $10,000 it would be interesting to discover whether or not he will be permitted to make weekly payments from his allowance until the claim has been satisfied.

Repair of Home Needed to Keep Sale Value High

New records in home maintenance and repair will be set this year in Contra Costa County, Nick Carter, president of the Contra Costa County Real Estate Board, predicted today.

"Reports from members of our Board engaged in real estate sales, appraisal and management —fields in which they come into contact with a wide segment of our home owners—indicate that this spring Central Contra Costa County will see more painting, fix-up, and solid renovation activity than ever before," the local Realtors' executive reported.

He went on to praise the home renovation trend as having "definite value in terms of better family living and potential future return on a valuable investment."

CARTER NOTED that in their increased home improvement work, Contra Costa residents are keeping pace with a national trend.

A recent survey of consumer finances by the Federal Reserve Board showed that 24 per cent of all "spending units" expect to spend $50 or more this year in bettering their homes. This is the highest proportion of this nature in the five years of the survey.

"What is not always appreciated is the wisdom of home improvement in terms of safeguarding and enhancing the largest and most important single investment most families ever make—the home they have bought."

Even though the family may now have no intention of moving, future developments such as the acceptance of a new job in another city by the wage-earner may make it necessary to sell their present home and purchase a new one, he pointed out.

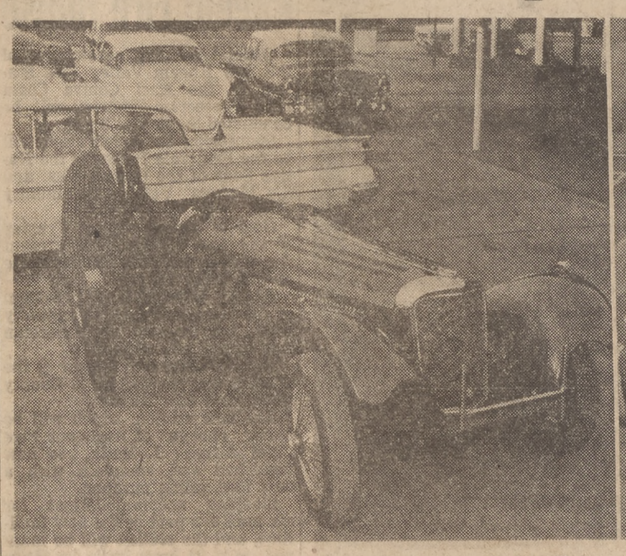

"IN SUCH CASES," Carter continued, "Realtors have found that it is the well-maintained home that holds its market value. The new coat of paint, that landscape job, the repair of front and back steps represents an expenditure today, but it may be the reason for a higher sales price tomorrow."

He cited the most recent survey of the research department of the National Association of Real-Estate Boards to which all Contra Costa Realtors belong by virtue of their local board membership as showing that:

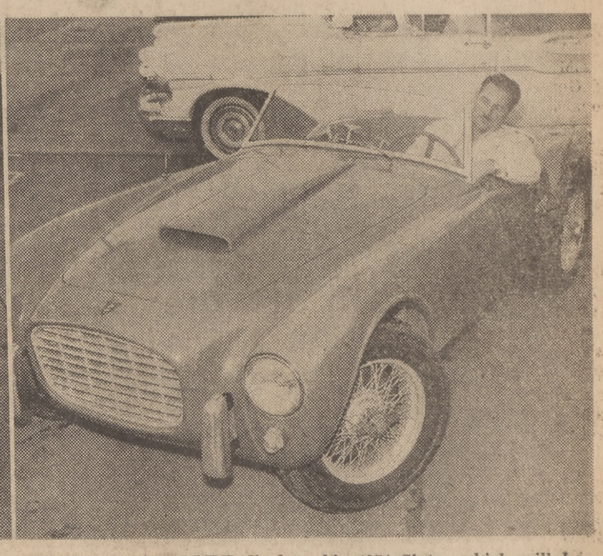

"Homes built in 1940 or earlier, if they have been well maintained have held or increased in value over the past 12 months (1956).

"Owners who have been mindful of repairs and modernization are finding their investment enhanced by the care and attention they have given. For most communities, prices of well-maintained older properties are quoted as the same or higher than those prevalent a year ago."

Attend the Spring Auto Show

LONG AND LOW is this 1937 Jaguar Roadster, which will be available for inspection at the Spring Sports Car and Auto Show, today and tmorrow. Lou Keller looks it over. The show will also have many of the newest sports cars, and a staff of auto people to explain their capabilities and characteristics.

FRANK MARCELLINI displays his 1954 Siata, which will be featured in the Spring Sports Car and Auto Show today and tomorrow in the Capwell parking lot, Walnut Creek. Sports Car & Auto Show at Capwell's Now, Tomorrow

What does an honest-to-goodness dragster look like and how does the brand-new 1957 Italian Lancia perform?

The answers to these questions — and any others that you can think up — will be available at the Spring Sports Car and Auto Show today and tomorrow in the parking lot behind Capwell's, Walnut Creek, in Broadway Center.

Models will be on display today from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. and tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

If it runs on wheels, the chances are that it will be there, all shining and bright with someone to explain the facts, figures and fashion features.

If you like sleek, powerful foreign cars, there will be a variety available for inspection, including the Lancia which is being shown for the first time, and the British Ace, owned by Lou Keller of Walnut Creek.

Frank Marcellini will show his Italian Siata, and there will be standard stock models of almost every make from half a dozen countries.

If you prefer the power and styling of American cars, they will be on hand too, including the first showing in the area of the new Ford Skyliner with its retractable metal top.

The show won't be just for the men, either. There will be beautiful displays of interiors and styling that will appeal to the ladies, as well as some of the new mechanical innovations that make driving a dream for the women.

All of the many displays are by distributors in Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Pleasant Hill.

It will be a family affair, according to members of the Spring Sports Car and Auto Show committee, who explain that the show will permit the comparison of current models.

Thus a family can compare without having to travel to various automobile dealers to spot the car of its choice.

Governor Lauds Mental Health Town Meeting

The Town Meeting on mental health scheduled for Wednesday night at Acalanes High School has been the subject of a congratulatory letter from Governor Goodwin J. Knight.

The governor's statement was addressed to the steering committee of the Governor's Conference on Mental Health, one of the five groups which are co-sponsoring the town meeting.

In part, the letter said, "A town hall, such as is being contemplated in Lafayette, is an outstanding example of individual cooperation in this universal problem."

The governor goes on to say, "What we all do day-by-day and month-by-moth henceforth will, in reality, determine the degree of our success in protecting and conserving mental health."

Reservations for the meeting, which will begin at 8 p.m., are available by calling YE 5-1060.

Keynote speaker for the meeting, before the workshop discussions start, is Dr. Henrik Blum.

State Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle is the program chairman for the evening.

County Needs Typist Clerk

Immediate employment as typist clerk awaits a qualified and mature woman who has a car and can travel to various locations in Contra Costa County, according to F. E. Emery, county personnel director. The position, which is a part of the Health Department's Traveling Immunization Clinic, clerically processes records for adults and children.

It is desirable that the person selected live within an approximate five or six-mile radius of Pleasant Hill, since most clinics are conducted in the central part of the county. Interested women should make a direct contact with the County Civil Service Department, Room 229, Hall of Records or by phoning Martinez 3000, Extension 415 as soon as possible.

In light of the need for traveling and the unusual clinic hours it is desirable that the person not have young children or rigid family commitments requiring attendance at home at specified times. While employment usually runs from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., some clinics run until as late as 11 p.m., Emery stated.

The table setting will carry out the May Day theme with a pink linen cloth and a center piece of white and Pink Iris. Mrs. Evans, president, and Mrs. Steven Sybalski, vice president, will pour.

Arrangements and invitations are being handled by Mrs. Malcolm Wimpress.

The Humming Board Associate members are as follows: Mesdames Clair Brissell, Robert Finlay, Kenneth Gaston, Chet Hendricks, G. W. Luhr, Al Perkins, Henry Peshon, Walter Phillips, Irene Theis.

Supervisors to Seek Additional Superior Judge

The state legislature will be asked to add one judge to the Contra Costa County superior court system, and supervisors have taken steps to learn how municipal court judges in Richmond can help out when the superior court dockets become overloaded.

Though there are only four superior courtrooms in Martinez, the addition of another judge would make a total of six.

Suggested is that on a temporary basis, municipal judges in Richmond may take superior court cases in their Richmond courts when the need arises.

Whether one of the Richmond courts could be redesignated as a superior court would also be up to the State Legislature.

Supervisor Ray Taylor objected to the creation of only one new court on the basis that two are needed, and that "we shouldn't go piecemeal on this."

Supervisor Warren Buchanan retorted that this would be too great a burden on the taxpayers. Earlier, Harry Morrison Jr., of the County Taxpayers Association said that two new judges with all the facilities and personnel would cost an additional $200,000 per year.

County Administrator Desmond Teeter objected to this, however, saying that the last year's budget for the present judges was about $18,000 each.

The meeting is open to any persons interested in writing. There will be an informal exchange of ideas and discussion of market sources and trends of writing in subsequent meetings.

Planning Board Asks More Study On Spear Request

The County Planning Commission voted Tuesday night to hold over a decision on C. L. Spear's petition for rezoning of his property in Happy Valley for further study.

The planners called for a study by the planning staff of the contours in the Spear property.

Spear's request to subdivide 22½ acres into ½ acre lots was accompanied by a letter from the Happy Valley Improvement Association stating that it was not opposed to the plan.

The improvement club, however, did request that certain restrictions be placed on the rezoning before its approval could be obtained.

The lots in question would have rather steep contours in a large percentage of cases, a situation which the planners felt should be considered more thoroughly before a decision could be reached.

In other actions at Tueday night's long meeting the planners:

1. Approved a variance permit for Garthwick, Incorporated, to have 10 foot setbacks on certain lots in the Waverly Farms tract in Lafayette.

2. Approved an 18 lot subdivision of Donald Rheem with 10 foot sideyards and 20 foot setbacks in the Moraga-southern Orinda area.

3. Approved a 6 lot subdivision, with similar setbacks and sideyards, of Utah Construction Company.

4. Held over for study of design and discussion of lot sizes on a proposed 202 lot subdivision of Utah Construction Company in Moraga.

5. Held over a decision on an improvement plan of a subdivision in Bel-Air Unit No. 2 in Orinda for discussion on engineering ploblems.

6. Denied the petition of R. J. Bruzzone and E. J. Ghigloine for rezoning of their property in Happy Valley.

7. Adopted their report and findings in the rezoning petitions of David Calderon and Anthony Lagiss.

Board Approves Local Variances

The County Board of Adjustment on Wednesday night approved two variance permits, held over another application for staff study and moved two applications to the Planning Commission calendar for the next week.

The board approved the application of Robert Klemmedson of North Orinda area for a 15 foot setback on his residence in Altarinda, and approved Karl Hohenrieder's request for a 6 foot setback for a carport on his lot in Haciendas Del Orinda.

Held over for further study by the planinng staff was the request of Mary O'Callaghan to have two lots less than ½ acre in Orinda Park Terrace.

The board continued the hearing to the planning commission calendar on the request of Russell L. McFadden for a 5 foot setback for a swimming pool and a 4 foot setback for a carport on portions of his two lots in Lafayette Homesites.

George W. Anderson's request for a 3 foot sideyard for a covered patio on his lot in Orinda Park Terrace was also moved to the commission calendar.

Ed Koepke did not appear for the hearing on his request for a 1.8 foot sideyard for a garade on his property in Lafayette.

The board moved the hearing up to its next scheduled meeting on May 8.

Local Artists Honored at Auburn Festival

Mrs. Marian Love, president of the Diablo Art Association received word from the American Association of University Women, Auburn Branch that two local members won three of the ten awards in the recent Auburn Art Festival.

Mrs. Katy Madsen's portrait "Judy" won the popular choice Award given by the Auburn Chamber of Commerce and also the Pauline Brundage student's choice.

24 Hour Watch Still Required At WC GOC Post

The Ground Observer Corps Post, located on the grounds of the National Guard Armory, 1800 Carmel Drive, Walnut Creek, was named as one of the two locations in Contra Costa County where 24-hour plane reporting is required by the U.S. Air Force.

At a meeting of the 28th Air Division Command, which includes the Sacramento and Reno Filter Center Areas, Major William Wetsel, Commander, 4772nd Ground Observer Squadron, announced that due to the increased technology and capabilities of radar, the Air Defense Command has found it possible to allow the GOC Posts in the central part of the United States to revert to "Ready Reserve" status.

This change in the status of the Ground Observer Corps will not affect the coastal and border areas, including Contra Costa County, which will remain on 24-hour Skywatch. The Sacramento Filter Center will also remain on 24-hour duty.

The Air Force expresses its appreciation for the services of the many volunteers in the past, and added that the Ground Observer Corps remains the bulwark of defense, guarding our coast. Through these coastal GOC Posts and Early Warning Radar, the Ready Reserve Posts can be quickly alerted for duty in the event of a threatened attack.

Along with designating the critical posts, the Air Force has added a plea to the citizens of the area to man these posts on a 24-hour basis. Further information about the hours the Walnut Creek Post is now unstaffed can be obtained from the Post Supervisor, Mrs. Isabelle Salisbury, ATlantic 3-2691, and the County Civil Defense Office, YEllowstone 5-5042 and Martinez 2888.

Now is Time To Get Polio Shots -- Blum

During the first two months of 1957 the number of cases of polio reported nationwide has been cut in half. Over a five year period the total number of cases during the same period has been cut by two thirds. "This decrease in the number of persons becoming victims of this tragic disease is undoubtedly due to widespread vaccination measures throughout the country since the discovery of the Salk vaccine," Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer, said.

"Here in Contra Costa County the decrease in polio has been less dramatic. In 1956 there was a total of 60 new cases of polio brought to the attention of public health authorities as compared to an average of 136 cases over the previous five year period," Dr. Blum continued.

Although there is a shortage of polio vaccine the Contra Costa County Health Department has been able to secure sufficient vaccine to operate its usual clinic schedule for at least three more weeks without interruption.

Everyone under 40 years of age is urged to get this protection either from a private physician or at one of the public health clinics now before the summer polio season begins.

Lavinder Named Program Chief

John R. Lavinder of 3082 Diablo View Road in Lafayette has been selected as program chairman for the western regional conference of the Controllers Institute of America which is meeting in San Francisco this weekend.

Lavinder is assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of the California Packing Corporation of San Francisco.

For maximum effectiveness a series of three anti-polio inoculations is advised. The second shot should be given four weeks following the first and the series of three should be completed within 7 to 12 months. Anti-polio shots may be obtained at the most convenient clinic.

The local immunization shots where anti-polio shots can be obtained follow:

Saturday, 9-12 noon, Pleasant Hill Health Department, 3241 North Main Street, Pleasant Hill; Thursday, 7-9 p.m., Pleasant Hill Health Department; Wednesday, 1:30-4:30 p.m., Lafayette Veterans' Hall.

SMART SHOPPER, this lady! She's not about to take anybody's word on low-price claims. She's doing what we invite you to do. She's checking prices at Safeway against prices at other stores ... on the very same items!

She started when she prepared her week's shopping list. By writing it on a wider sheet of paper than usual, she could have several columns for recording prices at different stores. As she filled her shopping list at Safeway, she wrote the price, after each item, in the first column.

She then visited several other stores. Using the same shopping list in each store, prices for the identical items were recorded in her separate columns.

Then she totaled each column. She was impressed by the big differences between the totals ... by the amount saved at Safeway on purchases for the week. Multiplying this saving by 52, she got a fair estimate of her savings at Safeway for an entire year ... and was she ever pleased!

We urge you to make this sort of personal price-check. It will give you conclusive proof, why "Safeway's your BEST place to save!"

The Writer and the Bees: A Fable for Our Valley?

Jim Fitzpatrick, who lives at 32 Valley View Drive in Orinda, was getting a little annoyed about the bees swarming around the back of his lot.

When he moved into Orinda 2½ years ago, Jim figured the bees would come in handy for producing some tasty spread for the Fitzpatrick table.

He soon found out, however, that bees have minds of their own. And when they decided to swarm around the tree where the Fitzpatrick children had erected their swing, Jim armed himself with insect spray and committed a small case of bee slaughter.

FEELING SOMEWHAT chagrined, and loath to commit genocide on the balance of the hive, he began telephoning beekeepers, 4-H advisors, agricultural advisors and who-have-you all over the county to come get his hive.

His pleas were in vain.

Fortunately, Jim is a rewrite man for a daily newspaper in the East Bay area. One of the columnists on the paper ran an item about the plight of the Fitzpatricks.

That very day, last Friday, the Fitzpatricks got a call from Lafayette F. Massinghill of Pine Creek Road in Concord who said he'd be happy to take the bees off Fitzpatrick's property.

SO, AT DUSK, which is the time to move bees, Massinghill went out to Orinda and calmly stowed the Fitzpatrick hive, 900,000 strong, into the trunk of his auto.

Which ordinarily would conclude the story.

However, Jim Fitzpatrick might like to know that Massinghill has been a bee student for several years, and has long been planning to start a small business in renting bees to farmers and orchard owners in the area for the purpose of pollinating their alfalfa, trees, gardens and orchards.

Massinghill has no practical experience in handling the little insects, but he's willing to learn and has begun putting his study to practical application.

HE HAS PURCHASED some hives and plans on moving the bees from their box to the new home.

With this hive as a beginning, Massinghill hopes to be able to start his empire.

The opportunities, it seems, are boundless in Ygnacio Valley for pollinating, not to mention the sale of honey from the hives.

So, perhaps Jim Fitzpatrick overlooked a good bet in seeing his back-yard neighbors as a nuisance only.

Moral: He who sees only the honey may be missing the smell of the money.

Acalanes High Students Named For Europe Trip

Two Acalanes High School students have been selected for the American Field Service student exchange summer program.

The two local scholars are Alan Hewitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hewitt of 11 Carolyn Court, and Ernest Fox, son of Mrs. Audrey Fox of 21 Ruth Court, both in Walnut Creek.

The boys will embark for Europe sometime shortly after the school year ends at Acalanes.

They will be boarded with European families selected by the New York office of the AFS for a period of six to eight weeks while they study at a European school, returning home in time for the fall semester here.

This is the third year in which the Acalanes High School District has participated in the exchange student program.

The program is designed to help young people from all over the world gain a better understanding of their neighbors in other lands.

Students from Greece, Denmark and Germany have studying at Acalanes High School this past school year, boarding with local families, as part of the program.

Tuberous Begonias Grow Most Anywhere in State

By THE GARDENER

GIVEN THE PROPER humidity and warmth, tuberous begonias can be grown in all their tropical beauty in most areas of California.

The flower colors of the tuberous begonia range through shades of orange, yellow, salmon, apricot, red and white in a variety of blossom forms.

The plant itself can be grown in the ground, in hanging baskets, in pots and raised beds.

Also, you may now purchase tuberous begonias in flats—making them readily available for planting in quantity.

Enrich the planting soil in a garden bed with steer manure and a little bone meal before planting; potted begonias do well in a mixture of two parts coarse leaf mold and one part fertile loam soil.

Place a broken piece of pot and one inch of roofing gravel at the bottom of a pot and then put in the suggested potting mixture.

For handling baskets use the potting mixture with a layer of gravel at the bottom of the basket.

Tuberous begonias need good shade in the hot interior valleys of the state, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

Along the coast plant your begonias in partial shade so that they have some sun but are protected from the hottest sun rays during the day.

There are many varieties of tuberous begonias.

Trailing varieties suitable for hanging basket planting are known as begonia lloydi.

Other varieties include upright types with plain, crested, frilled, daffodil-like, camellia-like, rose bud-like or ruffled blossoms.

A dwarf group, the multiflora nana, is covered all summer with small flowers of one and a half to three inches in diameter (in contrast to the normal sized begonia blossoms of five to eight inches.)

This group does best planted in full sun in the coastal areas—and in part shade, inland.

Tuberous begonais are eye-catching flowers and should be planted as such. Set against shrubbery their brilliant colors look rich and lush.

Under the trees begonias will have ideal growing conditions and the effect of rich colors under high-branching trees is very attractive.

Planted with other flowers that harmonize rather than compete in colors begonias look nice in beds and borders.

The contrasting textures and colors of pots and wooden containers set off the begonia handsomely when you grow them in containers of these materials.

Water your begonias in the evening with a fine mist spray. Make sure the soil drains well.

Start feeding the begonia after it is established, perhaps at the bud-forming stage. You will get good results with almost any kind of liquid fertilizer with acid or natural reaction.

A splendid control for begonia mildew is now available under the name of "Captan."

FBI reports indicate that juvenile crimes have increased at about double the rate of increase in juvenile population.

Nielsen Presents Sign Amendments

Supervisor Mel Nielsen presnted to the County Board of Supervisors his plan for a series of amendments to the county Outdoor Advertising Ordinances, at the board's meeting April 16.

Nielsen's plan stems from local objections to the billboard being erected north of Mt. Diablo Boulevard and west of Aileen Street in Lafayette.

The billboard is visible from both the new Lafayette By-Pass and Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Miller Pleads For Easter Seal

You still have a chance to give a crippled child a chance.

That's the word from Senator George Miller, Jr., chairman of Contra Costa County's 1957 Easter Seal campaign. He reported today that the appeal is still $10,000 short of its $27.000 goal.

Miller reported that 91,000 of local residents who received Easter Seals in the mails have not responded and expressed hope that a substantial number of additional contributions will be received before the books are finally closed on the campaign.

The Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County, sponsor of the drive is depending on every cent of the $27,000 goal to carry on its treatment and rehabilitation services for local crippled patients, Miller emphasized.

If the goal is not reached, some handicapped children and adults will be disappointed, he predicted.

Contributions may be mailed at any time to the Easter Seal Society of Contra Costa County at 1372 Main Street, Walnut Creek, or may be addressed to "Crippled Children in care of Local Postmaster."

Curtailment of Building in County Ac

Building Industry dilemma was focused locally by Pleasant Hill B of A Manager DICK DONOVAN . . . has compiled figures which show building starts in Concord area last month were roughly 25 per cent of same month last year.

GENERAL CONTRACTORS' ASSOCIATION OF CONTRA COSTA COUNTY has been actively seeking solution to problem . . . working closely with National Association of Home Builders . . . Membership Chairman, ALLAN FULLER indicated meeting held last night in Lafayette was all-out drive to rally builders in county to unified action . . . NAHB regional Vice President, BILL BLACKFIELD was one of the speakers.

LOCAL SUCCESS STORY . . .Tuesday, April 9, JACK MARCHANT (Marchant Construction Company—Lafayette) received application for Elks membership from new EXALTED RULER, TERRY RING—Friday, April 19 JACK'S picture (SUN) appeared with others over caption "New Officers Walnut Creek Elks Club" . . . (newspapermen have nightmares about things like this . . .)

Here's a Knotty Problem . . .

WHAT TO DO DEPARTMENT . . . LARRY BARKER, 2745 San Antonio Drive, Walnut Creek . . . part way along in fencing his property stopped when he discovered one of his almond trees was right on property line . . . decided he has three alternatives . . . (1) fence tree on neighbor's side and lose tree and some property . . . (2) fence tree on his side . . . stealing some of neighbor's property (neighboring property to be developed this year) . . . (3) cut tree down.

Anyone having other constructive ideas please let LARRY know.

COMPETITION CAN BE FRIENDLY . . . spearheaded by CHARLIE BAILEY (F/W Maisel) local realtors welcomed ED WALLACE, past CREA President, at Luncheon last week . . . ED has moved main office of his real estate sales organization from Oakland to his branch in Orinda. TOM FRANKLIN (Walnut Creek Paint Company) just back from Hawaiian vacation . . . is one of the few not impressed with ingenious new aluminum roofed building in Kaiser's Hawaiian Village (one like it is proposed for theatre in Walnut Creek) . . . apparently never needs painting.

GEORGE NEWHALL, Financier (among other businesses NEWHALL SCOTT DEVELOPMENT COMPANY) may be moving back into Contra Costa County . . . about to close deal on mansion in Danville Hills . . .

Rocks, Rocks . . . but not in his head!

"DO IT YOURSELF" FANS NOTE . . . BILL DIEHL, local designer, has used stone walls throughout his home in Danville. These walls were put up using an assembly unit that allows home owner to hang stone or brick even on sheet rock walls . . . no foundation necessary. BILL is waiting for someone to appear who is capable of promoting this product on a national scale . . . then you might have a chance at it!

County Cerebral Palsy Group to Sponsor Circus

Van M. Williams, 1957 campaign chairman for United Cerebral Palsy of East Contra Costa County, announced that the chapter will join the Alameda County group in sponsoring the 1957 Pollack Brothers Circus, formerly the Shrine Circus.

The Oakland performances of the circus will be held May 18 to 26 and will include both matinee and evening shows.

A share of the proceeds from all tickets sold in East Contra Costa County will be used in this area to further the chapter's projects for cerebral palsied children and adults.

"Our program for the coming year must be expanded, particularly in those areas and services where public and other private agencies cannot presently fill the many needs of cerebral palsy victims,' 'Williams said.

Funds derived from the circus for Contra Costa County will be used specifically to assist in supporting the Shadelands School Summer Program; for the Handicapped Boy Scout Troop and Cub Pack; for camperships for cerebral palsied children; a Sheltered Workshop program for cerebral palsied adults.

Also in individual cases whenever the assistance of United Cerebral Palsy is needed.

Advance-sale tickets will soon be made available through merchants and various service organizations throughout the area, said Williams.

Commuter Bus Decision Appeal Is Most Logical

It seems no exaggeration to say that the life of Central Contra Costa commuters is filled with one transit crisis after another.

This would appear true even if the rigors of commuter existence involved nothing more strenuous than the daily battle of getting to and from work in the San Francisco-Oakland area.

However, the latest development poses a very real crisis. From all available information, that crisis seems to boil down to the question of whether or not commuter bus fares will take a sizeable jump in the near future.

We refer, of course, to the recent Federal District Court of Appeals decision upholding an Interstate Commerce Commission order which authorized Pacific Greyhound Lines to set up a separate company for Bay Area commuter traffic, the Golden Gate Transit Lines.

One of the three judges — Judge George Harris — while concurring in the ruling, commented that Contra Costa and Marin Counties should press their appeal.

He disagreed with the other judges, who refused to allow Attorney Spurgeon Avakian, representing the two counties and the commuter organizations in those counties, to file an amended complaint.

Attorney Avakian has asked the two counties if they wish to appeal the matter to the United States Supreme Court.

And the Contra Costa County Commuters Association has asked our county supervisors to use their influence toward pressing the fight in that way.

Both the Contra Costa County Commuters Association and the Marin County Federation of Commuter Clubs have been actively opposing the Greyhound move for a long time.

They, along with the officials of the two counties, have pointed out repeatedly that the Greyhound effort to establish a separate commuter operation is for the definite purpose of raising commuter fares.

We agree with the Contra Costa County Commuters Association that the matter should be appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

Greyhound buses are our sole major means of public transportation in this area.

We urge our county officials to back the Commuters Association and to appeal the recent ruling to the United States Supreme Court.

Schools Need Our Interest!

Next week is Public Schools Week, and it is time for us to stand back and take a look at the institutions that are providing our children with their formal education.

What kind of a job are our schools doing? What kind of personnel work in these schools? Why are bond issues necessary, and what are the ultimate goals of our various districts?

There is one place to find the answers to these questions . . . and that is the schools themselves.

An open invitation has been extended to every resident of the area to "drop in and get acquainted."

It should be pointed out that our school districts, in general, are doing a tremendous job, and they are facing some almost insurmountable problems.

If we, as individuals, are not acquainted with their problems, it might very well be nobody's fault but our own, because the information is there for the asking.

We, as parents and citizens, should make it our business to take an active interest in school affairs, including PTA activities and school board meetings.

For instance, the financial requirements of the school districts are great, but how many of us are cognizent of the needs and the ways in which they are being met?

It is certainly up to the school district to watch expenditures carefully, to plan ahead, and to operate efficiently. Property can often be purchased in advance of actual need at a great saving to the taxpayer.

We, as citizens, have every right to expect the school districts to operate in an efficient way, and to the best of our knowledge, they have been doing so.

The school districts will be coming to us for more bond issues, and they will be asking for authority to increase the tax rates.

When the question is put before us, we should vote these monies . . . not for the school districts, but for us.

After all, the school district is not doing anything for itself, per se, but for our children, and in turn, for us.

When we vote the necesasry funds to our school districts, we are only providing facilities by which we can better ourselves, and the biggest investment we have, as parents and as a nation, is our children.

So make it a point during Public Schools Week to become acquainted with your schools . . . and then, when an interest has developed, keep it active throughout the year . . . because your schools are working for you all through the year.

What They Say . . .

And Time Is Here Aplenty

Get ready, set, move your clocks ahead an hour!

Come Monday morning at 1 a.m. and it will be 2 a.m. Which comes under the heading, "Bad News for Bar Owners."

The advent of Daylight Saving Time has side effects, however.

Invariably, some several dozen people are an hour late to work on Monday morning because they forgot to set their clocks ahead.

Mothers have a more difficult time getting the children to bed in the evening.

Golfers linger on the course past the usual dinner hour, causing burned up meals and matching wives.

All in all, Daylight Saving Time is a mixed blessing. At least, so it seemed to the citizens we called and asked, "How do you plan to use that extra hour of daylight?"

MRS. JOHN H. LAWRENCE, 220 Glorietta Boulevard, Orinda: "You've got me. I haven't even thought about it."

MRS. ROY J. MANGINI, 686 Los Palos Drive,Lafayette: "We're" in the midst of remodeling our house, so we're looking forward to the extra time to work on the new rooms."

MRS. RALPH G. NORBACK, 5 Valley View Drive, Orinda: "Just cussing it out. We hate it."

FRANK W. CARUSO, 3208 Camino Colorados, Lafayette: "Really, I hadn't thought about it. But it'll probably make it easier to play a little extra golf."

RALPH TUGGLE, 1531 Mendocino Drive, Concord: "I won't do any different than I'm doing now The only difference is that I won't be able to get the kids to bed so early. In other words, it's a nuisance."

MRS. JERRY LEACH, 1255 Coventry Road, Concord: "Why, I never even thought about it. It hasn't made any difference to me in the past, so I guess it won't this time."

MRS. JACK HAMILTON, 3312 Ronald Way, Concord: "We're not going to use it. My husband is a locomotive engineer for SP, and we'll just keep perkin' like usual on regular time."

MRS. PAUL EGBERT 5285 Concord Boulevard, Concord: "Working outside, I guess, on gardening and flowers."

MRS. HERMAN NELSON, 3031 Wildwood, Concord: "Well, sometimes it means an extra hour in the garden. It's also better when we play golf."

MRS. ASTRID HERMANSON, 3698 Wren Avenue, Concord: "Working, that's what I've always done."

MRS. DAN ATNIP, 3195 Amerno Road, Concord: "Daylight saving time doesn't make much difference. Gives the youngsters a little more time to play out, that's about all."

MRS. JESSIE WELTER, 1429 Davis, Concord: "We just go on the same, daylight saving or regular time."

MRS. ALLISON VARNEY, 430 Coleman Court, Pleasant Hill: "Well, with four children, I won't have any trouble finding use for the time."

HERBERT LUNDEEN, 161 Alderwood Lane, Walnut Creek: "I'll use the extra time to work in the garden when I get home from work in the evenings."

MRS. ROY MAGNUM, 36 Ackley Court, Walnut Creek: "I guess with daylight saving time we'll be able to do a little more gardening."

ROBERT AULD, 58 Viking Drive, Pleasant Hill: "Probably mowing the lawn when I come home from work."

Last Youth Concert Sunday

Youth and harmony will come to Walnut Creek Sunday afternoon when the Young People's Symphony of Berkeley will play the last concert of the Central Contra Costa Youth Series at 2:30 in the Acalanes High School Auditorium.

This is the eighteenth season for the young people's symphony, under the inspiring leadership of Jessica Marcelli who has brought the group to national recognition.

Since the first concert in 1937, the orchestra has played two concerts at the Golden Gate International exposition, four concerts at the Greek Theatre at the University of California, two subscription concerts annually, monthly concerts on KGO for three seasons, Peninsula Children's Concerts at Burlingame.

Any talented young musician is welcome to try out for membership in the orchestra. Those interested in auditions may call Jessica Marcelli, LAndscape 4-2928 or address inquiries to 15 San Mateo Road, Berkeley 8, Calif.

"The board of directors of the Youth Concerts thanks the public for its support of the concert season and hopes that the concerts were enjoyed by children and adults," said Mrs. D. W. Carlson, publicity.

Advanced First Aid Course Set

An advanced First Aid course will be offered by Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross. Classes are scheduled to begin May 7, in the Red Cross Building, 1395 Civic Drive, Walnut Creek.

The group will meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 8 to 10 and will continue through May 28.

No tuition is charged for the course. Persons holding a current Standard First Aid card or whose Advavnced First Aid card has only recently expired is eligible to enroll.

THAT'S RIGHT, it's that time again to turn ahead the hands of time and get ready for Daylight Saving Time. Before going to bed Saturday night or Sunday morning, whichever the case might be, turn your clock AHEAD one hour. —Sun photo by Don Bradley

Letters to The Editor

ORINDA PARKING

Dear Editor:

Hooray for the Orinda business property owners! The public is now told they are willing to push those second class citizens, the commuters, up the hill to get them out of the way of the businessmen . . .

Before we swallow this candy coated little cure-all, let's look at the ingredients first.

Assumption 1: The businessman does not want the commuter near his shop! If this is true, Orinda's businessmen are cutting out a large class of customers who rush the stores at certain hours and make many purchases for convenience and not economical reasons

Assumption 2: In locating the commuter parking, the present Greyhound Line arrangement is to be continued as the primary commuting system. With rumors that the reorganized Greyhound's fares may soon double, car pool arrangements are becoming more attractive, and it is the hope of almost every commuter that someday a good rapid transit system will be available. Neither the size nor the location of this lot will be likely to be practical then, and in the meantime its location for both bus and car pool commuters is far from ideal.

Assumption 3: The commuter will be happy to pay a nominal fee for lot maintenance. Here is one more little straw for our suburban camel . . .

Credit is due to the parking authority for its hard work in seeking a solution to the increasing parking problem, but by basing its work on these assumptions, and by going ahead in this manner, it is repeating the error of piecemeal planning . . .

We must take a broader view of the parking problem as a part of the overall lack of planning in central Orinda. Let us not jump to one more unretractable stopgap measure until we have a general plan . . .

Parking is a problem, but not our only one. The merchants and the commuters should be able to work together, for the benefit and profit of both, and not let an artificial animosity be the cause for further problems to both groups. There is as yet no need to rush headlong into a "solution" that will leave further and more drastic problems.

MARVIN C. BAKER

TAXES

Dear Editor:

I attended a meeting of the Lafayette Improvement Association at the Town Hall on Wednesday, April 10, relative to "What's Ahead for us in Taxes?"

At this meeting there were representatives from the Sanitary District Flood Control, Fire District and School Board, who gave interesting talks, including facts and figures in connection with our high taxes in this area.

During the question and answer period, I asked why it was necessary for these various districts to hold so many separate special elections each year, instead of consolidating them all into one election, which would certainly save the taxpayers considerable expense. As a matter of fact, these elections could all be held at a time when there was a General Election, thereby getting out all of the voters.

I realize from the past special elections held that only a handful of voters turned out for these bond issues, etc., and these people are always in favor of the issue, which usually wins by a big majority, and of course, taxes go up. Therefore, it may be to these various districts' advantage to hold them on separate dates.

Mr. Carl Merner, president of the Lafayette School Board immediately arose to answer my question and said, "I'll answer that question as I have been coached for it." Apparently the various districts realize these numerous special elections have been a sore spot in the taxpayers' lives for a number of years.

Mr. Merner explained that these special elections are held in accordance with laws passed in Sacramento some years ago. However, one of the other representatives, (I believe it was Carl Rich, chief engineer, C C.C. Flood Control), announced that there are certain bills pending now in Sacramento that would change this.

Will you be kind enough to let me know the particulars of these proposed bills, as well as the present status, as you will no doubt agree that passage of these bills to consolidate these special elections will save the taxpayers money.

William A. Racine.

INVITATION

Dear Editor:

On April 30, 1957, our class will put on our version of the play South Pacific.

It will start at 8 p.m. at the Concord Elementary Auditorium.

The show is a musical comedy of the south sea islands.

It will be during Open House week.

We hope you visit our school

Norman C. Gouveio, Jr.

ED'S NOTE:

We'll be there!!

FLUORIDATION

Dear Editor:

Let's get our drinking water fluoridated NOW! It has been medically proven that fluoridated drinking water reduces tooth decay up to 75 per cent in children. Fluoridation is urged by the American Medical Association, all dental societies and the United States Public Health Service. It has been successfully used for some time in San Francisco, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Chicago, St. Louis and the list could go on for pages.

Each day that goes by our children are being denied the benefit of a 30 year old discovery and suffering needless dental decay.

If you are interested in doing something about this please call me at AT 4-4667.

(MRS) BARBARA GOLDEEN

RURAL CHARM

Dear Editor:

With all the plans for improvement and development of Mt. Diablo Boulevard, I hope the merchants and property owners keep in mind that it is the country atmosphere of this town which makes it so restful and pleasant a place to live.

For this reason, I should like to see someone thinking more about planting trees than about the width of the sidewalks, and, also, less of the ultra-modern type of buildings and more of those with a country style and charm which really add something more than just shopping convenience.

A RESIDENT

CHILDREN

Dear Editor:

In answer to Disgusted Property Owner.

There are a lot of us who have the same feeling as all neighborhoods seem to have the same trouble and even more .

It seems to me that children arent' taught to respect others and property any more, that must have left with the horse and buggy days.

You'll find one or the other in all neighborhoods, of dogs, children or junk yards. You must not mention it because a neighbor would get peeved. So why should we get heart trouble or ulcers over it, forget it and try something else to be proud of.

As in our neighborhood we all have large back yards, but there seems no place for children to play only in the driveways, front yard and the roadway of others, so what?

Until some new law is made there is no advantage of owning a home, unless you need more headaches.

Don't think you can mvoe farther out and get away from it, as I have seen children a mile from home taking turns running across the highway and sliding down the banks, so you figure it out, but I suggest you keep it to yourself.

We are probably known as old people that dont' love children or dogs any more I just hope I live to be real old and see the actions of this generation if they ever grow up.

We probably grew too fast. It would be nice to read some letters from the ones that seem to think their children and dogs should take over.

Are You and Your Car Ready for an H Bomb?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

What would you do if in the next two minutes the civil defense sirens and radio ordered you to evacuate this area and head for Byron, Brentwood or Tracy? Are you ready for an A or H Bomb attack?

In previous columns, I've discussed the need for a family evacuation plan, food and supplies ready and other civil defense problems.

Yesterday I thumbed through some additional CD material and was impressed by "Four Wheels To Survival — Your Car and Civil Defense." Whether it is your car or your neighbors', here are some mighty important suggestions to work on:

Your car can be "four wheels to survival" for you and your family in a civil defense emergency. How well your car serves this purpose depends on a few common-sense advance preparations — things which may spell the difference between life and death for you and your family.

Your car moves you from danger

Many civil defense actions, especially pre-attack evacuation, depend on your ability to move away from a probable area of danger. Properly used, your car will move you and as many others as can be comfortably seated. To do this:

Keep your car in the best possible mechanical condition. Keep your tires properly inflated. Be sure the battery is always in tip-top shape. Keep your gas tank more than half-full at all times.

Most cars today can move some 250 miles on a full tank of gasoline. You may not need to move that far at any one time under emergency conditions, but it may be difficult to obtain additional gasoline for quite a while after an attack.

Ways to conserve gasoline: Keep your engine in proper mechanical adjustment. Take opportunities to coast long distances with engine off. Learn the most efficient operating speed of your engine. Usually between 30 and 40 miles per hour. Remember — you can push or pull another car with little increase in your own gasoline consumption.

Your car helps shelter you

Tests under an actual atomic explosion in Nevada proved that modern cars, especially those with turret top construction, give a degree of protection against blast, heat and radiation.

Before an attack, roll the windows down to equalize pressures and to prevent glass breakage. Crouch or lie down, below the level of the windows. After an attack, windows should be raised to keep out as much dust as possible; it may be contaminated by radio-active fallout.

Shelter in an unexpected blast is a bonus you get from your car. More importantly, the car provides a small movable house. You can get away in it — then live, eat, and sleep in it in almost any climatic conditions, if necessary, until a civil defense emergency is ended.

Your car is your information center

Under the CONELRAD system of emergency radio broadcasting, your car radio will be your source of official information. Be sure it is working and marked with CD frequencies of 640 and 1240.

Have good maps of your city and the surrounding areas. In an evacuation, maps will be important, since it may be necessary for the official traffic broadcast to route you over roads you do not know.

Your car is your shopping center

In an emergency you may not be able to buy food for several days. Have an adequate supply on hand to make your family self-sufficient. The food you'll need can be based on the 7-day supply suggested by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. Keep these emergency rations in a carton, ready to be put into the car trunk.

Know what would be needed in the way of water containers, first aid kit, clothing and blankets. See that it is available in your home and make it the responsibility of one member of the family to see that no item is forgotten if an emergency arises.

In an evacuation, only courtesy, cooperation and careful driving can prevent disastrous traffic jams. Learn and observe these rules:

Obey police, civil defense auxiliaries, and other authorities. If you have room, pick up walking evacuees. Don't crowd or try to beat the other fellow. If your car becomes disabled, try to get off the road. If traffic gets stalled, don't lean on the horn. Your impatience may become someone else's panic. That can cost lives!

Red Cross Drive Gains Slightly

New residents at 591 Creekside Road in Pleasant Hill are newlyweds Mr and Mrs. Arthur Crowell, both graduates of the 1956 Mt. Diablo High School class.

She is the former Beverly Jean Bipso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Carlson of Hook Avenue, Pleasant Hill, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crowell of Joan Avenue in Concord.

The wedding was held in Concord's First Presbyterian Church April 14 with the Rev. Ernest Bradley officiating at the double ring ceremony. More than 350 relatives and friends attended.

Following the wedding ceremony, the Crowells cut wedding cake at their reception at the Veterans Memorial Building.

The bride was escorted to the altar by stepfather August Carlson. She wore a ballerina length gown of white lace over satin with a fitted bodice fashioned with scalloped neckline. Her bouquet was white lilies of the valley and carnations centered with an orchid.

The couple are making wedding plans for June 15 at Christ the King Catholic Church in Pleasant Hill, with a reception to follow at the Allen home.

Garden Checklist Offers Advice

Here's the latest advice from your Garden Checklist:

1. Water correctly. More plants are killed by improper watering than in any other way.
2. English primrose may be divided as soon as they finish blooming.
3. Don't cut your lawn lower than 1½ inches. Short mowing frequently causes lawns to turn brown due to sun burning.
4. Watch for lawn moth damage. Control them by the use of chlordane or dieldrin.
5 Practically all flowering bedding plants can be planted now. In addition to the popular types such as snaps, pansies and petunias, try some of the less commonly planted varieties.

DRIVER IMPROVEMENT PROGRAMS

Forty-five states and the District of Columbia now have driver improvement program. Only 41 of these states, however, have personnel devoted to this work full time.

S.F. Symphony Announces Final Concert Program

The final concerts of the San Francisco Symphony 1956 - 1957 season will be presented at the Opera House next Thursday evening, Friday afternoon and Saturday evening, May 2, 3 and 4.

Enrique Jorda, concluding his third year as musical director, conducts a program consisting of Beethoven's "Lenore" Overture No. 1, Ravel's "Mother Goose" Suite and Brahm's stately First Symphony.

Ann added feature just announced is the percussion Concerto by Darius Milhaud. The work, written in 1930 was first performed at the Brussels Conservatory, in the same year, has as soloist Roland Kohloff who came to the San Francisco Symphony from New York at the beginning of the season.

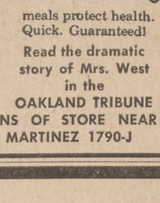

The charming Mother Goose Suite, "Ma Mere L'Oye" in French, was originally a 5-piano suite for four hands. Written in 1908, it was introduced at a Paris concert by two pianists aged ten and six. Ravel orchestrated the work for ballet in 1912 and it was presented in this form at Paris' Theater des Arts the same year.

Tryouts to Be Held Monday By Dramateurs

Christian Science

Man's God-given right of progress will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. The Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation After Death" will include the following from Isaiah (9:2): "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined."

The following selection will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (233: 1): "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. This is an element of progress, and progress is the law of God, whose law demands of us only what we can certainly fulfill."

REDUCES FATIGUE, TOO

Keeping the eyes focused on the right edge of the road when passing another car at night not only reduces the effects of the glare but also is a considerable factor in diminishing fatigue. A long night drive will be much less tiring if the eyes are shown this much consideration.

Farm Bureau Women Plan Friday Meet

The Contra Costa County Committee and unit leaders of Farm Bureau Women will convene next Friday at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Bernice Mills, 3665 West Road, Lafayette.

Orinda and Lafayette will be co-hostesses for the luncheon and entertainment. Mrs. R. O. Shoemake and Mrs. Fred A. Gates are chairmen.

Mrs. Harry Hobbs of Knightsen, county chairman, will be in charge of the sessions. She will report on the Contra Costa Farm Bureau banquet held in the Concord Masonic Hall April 27.

State Senator George Miller Jr. was the speaker.

Farm Bureau women cooked and served the food.

There will be a report from the nominating committee which consists of Mrs. Fred Donahue of Danville, chairman, Mrs. George W. Fox of Concord and Mrs. James Dennis of Rodeo.

A return to the active list has been made by Mrs. Mary Ryon Williams, county home advisor.

Mrs. Kenneth Ferrell of Concord, county education chairman, announced that the speaker of the afternoon will be Harold W. Kaar of Martinez, assistant superintendent of Contra Costa County schools.

Kaar will discuss the county's work with retarded and handicapped children.

Mrs. Joe Sousa of Modesto, state vice chairman, said at the April county meeting that after her home was robbed recently she learned that she should have had a list of model and serial numbers for all her household appliances—also should have had her hubcaps stamped. This is vital to the police in tracing stolen goods and capturing criminals, she said.

Egg Hunt Draws 340 Participants To Meadowbrook

The sunny skies of Easter Sunday smiled on 340 participants in a brunch and egg hunt at Meadowbrook Golf Club in Reliez Valley.

Approximately half those attending were children, wearing Sunday best. The egg hunts and games after a 12:30 repast on the terraces were geared to three different age levels.

Finders of prize eggs were Randy Gannon, Jim Gant, 1 through 4 years; Helen Gant, Ronnie Douglass, Mary Copenhagen, 5 through 8 years; Twyla Turner, terry Landers, David Haygood, 9 through 12 years.

Egg rolling on the central lawn, the gayest of the events, had several winners, including John Correia, Judy Wolverton, 9 through 12 years; Keith McConnell, Bobby Michener, 5 through 8 years; Mike Ward, Bobby Beegar, 1 through 4 years, in that order.

Final competition was in one-legged Bunny Hops. Winners were John Correia, Mike Lahey, Don Wilson, 9 through 12 years; Terry Landers, Kathy Lee, Diane Condit, 9 through 12 years; Andrea Ward Madaleva Peyton, Steve Roberts, 5 through 8 years; Greg Lahey, Lucia Wilson, Billy Pugh, 5 through 8 years; Steve Correia, Bobby Beelar, Carol Pugh, 1 through 4 years, in that order.

The games committee, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Landers, ran out of "gas" and prizes, but energy lingered on in the children.

The attractive Meadowbrook swimming pool was opened for the season on Easter Sunday and, in spite of springtime coolness, some swimmers were noted using it.

Fishing Season Opens Tomorrow

Hundreds Prepare To Grab Tackle, Line for Trout

Thousands of Contra Costa residents will head for the streams and creeks of California tomorrow as the 1957 trout season opens

Only change in fishing policy from last year is that Calaveras County will open tomorrow. Formerly, it was listed with Butte, Plumas, Nevada, Sierra, Yuba, Placer, Alpine, El Dorado and Amador counties which are closed until May 1.

DEL NORTE and Humboldt Counties and the Eel and Mad Rivers open May 30 with the exception of Lake Pillsbury which will be open to anglers tomorrow.

All trout seasons close October 31. If you're a fly fiend, then try Pleasant Valley Creek, a tributary of the East Carson River near Markleville. This creek is for the exclusive use of fly men.

The Truckee Rivers' exclusive fly area has been moved to a section just below Lake Tahoe between Hirschdale Bridge and the Cal.-Nevada line.

GENERALLY speaking streams will be low and clear. Last year most of the creeks were high and muddy because of the storms but if the weather holds and nothing too heavy rolls in from the sea, opening day and Sunday should provide plenty of action on streams that were dead last year.

In other fields of fishing, stripers are now in San Pablo Bay off Rodeo down to Wilson Point. There are plenty of bass in the delta area also.

Fish have been nailed in the lower Sacramento River in the Rio Vista area, near Three Mile Slough and around Decker Island or Horseshoe Bend.

Stripers have been fair-to-middling around Frank's Tract, and in Orwood Tract near Brentwood.

SALMON HAS been reported as slow outside the Golden Gate A few are being hit from boats operating out of San Francisco, Sausalito and Berkeley.

Big salmon in the 30-40 pound class haven't entered the area as yet but a few are running in the 20-25 pound class.

Daily trout limit is still 15 but it is no longer legal to use liver and meat as bait.

The State Fish and Game Commission outlawed both types of bait.

REASON FOR THE outlawing was that almost all of California raised trout are fed on liver. The commission ruled that the use of liver as bait is unsportsman like.

The new rule also bans the use of livers or flesh or meat of any bird or mammal as trout bait.

Worms and insects are still a legal form of bait.

Cheese and other dairy products as bait are still legal. Cheese covered salmon eggs are still legal also.

GOOD RUNS of salmon and steelhead have been forecast for the Sacramento River from Colusa to Redding.

Opening day fishermen should pack a raincoat and water tight waders. Most waters are still freezing cold and extreme care should be taken while fishing.

GENERAL TROUT season opens tomorrow in most California and Nevada counties. Judging from the expression on this angler's face, he's not losing any time at all getting to the high cold streams. Even his pup seems to be helping in loading up all the gear.—Sun photo by Don Bradley

Babe Ruth League Tryouts Will Continue Tomorrow

Tryout for Concord's Babe Ruth Baseball League will continue tomorrow at the city ball park on Salvio and Parkside Streets under the direction of league president Jess Stone.

Each of the more than 200 baseballers have signed up for the summer league and have been assigned tryout numbers. Numbers 101 to 155 will work out this Saturday according to Pete Chalmers of the city recreation department.

THE LEAGUE, composed of 13, 14 and 15 year old boys, will open May 18 with three games at the city park. Each team will conclude 15 scheduled games early in July.

Three sponsors are still needed for the local league, now planning its first season of strictly local competition. Last year two Concord teams participated in county Babe Ruth play

Sponsored teams include The Big Jones Roofing Braves, the Optimist Club's Redlegs and the Diablo Sports Center Pirates. Teams sustained by the league include the Flying A's, Phillies and Cubs.

Both the Braves and the Flying A's competed in the county league last year.

STONE URGED local sponsors to step forward if they wished t back one of the Babe Ruth teams. He said that the league would begin as scheduled but that additional backers were needed and welcomed.

Sponsors, coaches and managers also are being sought for a proposed Pony League, consisting of four "farm clubs," that will be formed for boys not making the Babe Ruth league squads.

The Babe Ruth teams are limited to 15 players each, but the Pony League teams will carry larger rosters. This will enable all boys trying out to compete if the Pony League is formed, Chalmers said.

COMPETITION WILL climax in July with a county playoff scheduled for July 4 and a divisional playoff planned for July 21 in Concord. Tournament play concludes with a national tournament in Michigan in August.

Stone says opening day ceremonies, including participation from the mayor, the chief of police and a visiting dignitary, are planned at the ball park May 18.

"The turnout for our tryouts has been far above our expectations and we look for a competitive and well balanced league," he said.

Junior College to Have Open House Sunday Afternoon

East Contra Costa Junior College will hold open house Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4.

Visitors will see the classrooms, laboratories and the new Student Activities Building where light refreshments will be served by the East Campus Women's Club.

The occasion will mark the beginning of National Public Schools Week.

Students from the Veterans Club, wearing green-banded jackets, will be at the parking lots to assist visitors and to direct them to the main cluster of buildings where there will be other guides from campus clubs.

Around the perimeter of the Diablo Room—largest room in the Student Activities Building where there is an unimpeded view of Mt. Diablo—will be tables at which instructors in nine subject areas will be present to discuss education programs with future students or their parents.

The college is located on Golf Links Road off Contra Costa Highway.

Area Bowlers Get Trophies For Season

The Town and Country Beauty Salon bowlers won the championship of the Tuesday evening Women's Handicap League last week by defeating Dana Estates in the playoff.

The area bowlers won three games straight in the playoff. They were winners of the first half of the season, but came in fourth in the second half. This made the playoff necessary.

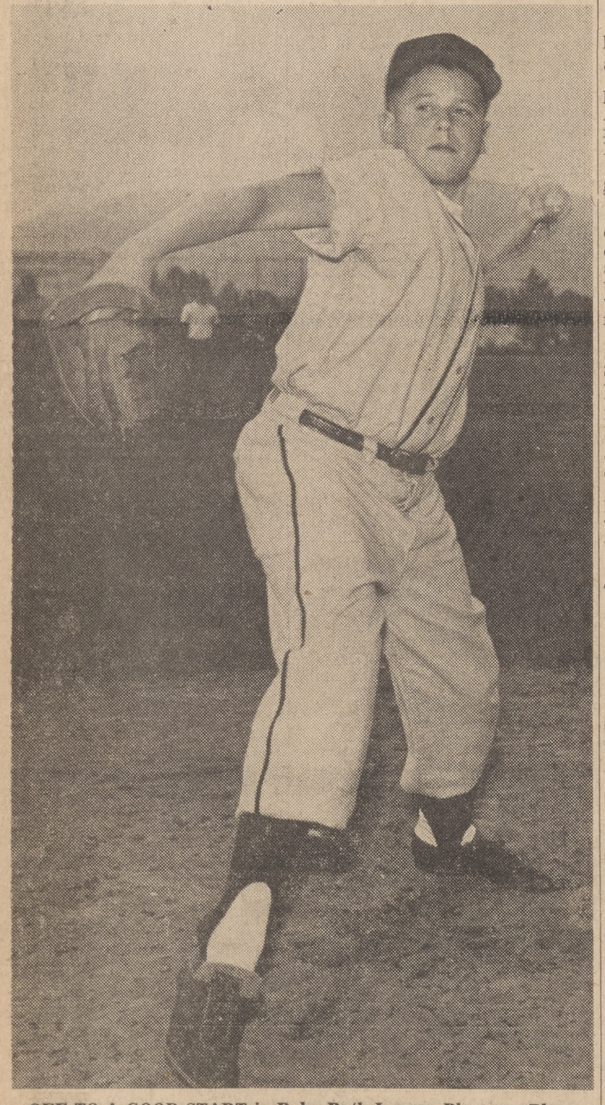

Team members are Tyna Lloyd, Lois Maloon, Margaret March, Janis Overby and Captain Helen Sibley.

The team was formed about three years ago.

It rolled the high team single game of the season with 801, and also the high team three-game series, with 2269.

Lois Maloon scored the individual high three game series with 544.

Championship trophies were awarded Tuesday night to team members at Stans Brick House. Ruth Pellett represented the sponsors.

OFF TO A GOOD START in Babe Ruth League Play was Pleasant Hill's Jim Harrison who pitched a no-hitter against the Walnut Creek Optimists in a practice game season opener last week. The 15 year old lefthander plays for the Mt. Diablo Y Men's Club team. Sun Photo by Don Bradley.

Alhambra Relays Slated At Martinez Tomorrow

by Erwin Mattson

Tomorrow marks one of the big events in track when the Alhambra Relays take place at Martinez.

It is a relay in the true sense in that every event the results of four performers are totaled, whether it be the shot, pole vault or shuttle hurdle event.

The events are numerous and a large number of schools compete each year. It's a meet where depth counts and coaches have fun figuring out where to place their men plus the fact it's a good conditioner for the league meets which are just around the corner.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE baseball gets under way late in May. Concord has formed its own league consisting of six teams and will have its own all star teams to enter into the playoffs which come at the end of the regular season. The playoffs like American Legion ball is on a national basis.

Another six team circuit finds teams from Martinez, West Pittsburg, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Shore Acres and Danville.

Legion ball has a full schedule on tap with 10 clubs and 18 games on a home and home basis.

Thus it appears that there will be lots of ball played with everyone from eight to 18 taking part.

THIS AFTERNOON and tomorrow finds the swimmers of the DVAL paddling it out for the championship of the local league.

Last year Acalanes won every first place but one, but lost the title to Diablo when they came up with the depth. The Dons went on to win the North Coast, however, where top men counted most.

The Dons are favored to repeat with the most opposition expected from Las Lomas, who has come up with a strong team and appear on their way to becoming a swimming power.

The first six qualify for the inter-league meet to be held at Amador High next week. From there the top men qualify for the North Coast meet.

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made that Jean Ridley is leaving Acalanes for a position with the California Packing Company comes June. Jean coached varsity football and varsity basketball.

Jack Carhart who coached the Junior Varsity football last year moves up to varsity mentor. His assistant is unnamed at the time.

Danny Glives who has coached the Cal 145 pound basketball team for several years will handle the Dons hoop team next fall.

Plans now call for him to run C and D basketball in the fall. Chances are Glives will use the Cal system of play in as much as he has been an avid student of Pete Newell's.

Acalanes Dons Pull Upset By Defeating Rams, 1-0

The Acalanes Dons pulled an upset in prep baseball circles when they came up with a top game to defeat the Pleasant Hill Rams 1-0 on April 11.

The game, played at Acalanes, found a pair of southpaws hooking up in a first-class pitching duel that kept the issue in doubt to the bottom of the fatal seventh.

It was a tough one for the league-leading Rams to drop, as their senior southpaw hurler, Mike Cereda, gave up but two hits while striking out nine and walking only one.

SOPHOMORE Mike Kritscher, on the mound for the Dons, tossed a one-hitter, struck out six and walked three.

The Rams' lone hit came when Leftfielder Dave Bartels hit a line drive single over third.

Closeness of the contest is attested by the fact that only one Ram reached second, while the Dons had two men reach third.

THE BIG ONE for the Dons came in the bottom half of the fatal seventh.

With one down, Third Baseman Rich Markstein wound up on second, thanks to an overthrow at first by the Ram shortstop, Bill Dutton.

Cereda got Leftfielder Dennis Combs on three strikes for out number 2, but got himself in hot water when he threw a wild pitch to the next batter, First Baseman Jim Dinkel, and that put Rich Markstein at third.

SECONDS LATER, with a 2-2 count on Dinkel, Cereda let another one get away, and. Markstein scampered home with the winning run.

The Dons committed two errors to one for the Rams.

BEHIND THE PLATE it was Smoot for the Dons and Adams for the Rams.
